A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Members,

The Year is slowly slipping away and we are starting to get our teeth in to the business of running the Club. We had our first Have-A-Chat, which was a bit disappointing from an attendance point of view and we followed up with the Annual Camp which was an outstanding success. I have never been unhappy with a slow start because it gives us the incentive to do better things in the future. We realised the power of advertising our events in time to allow members to plan ahead.

With the onset of the recession I hope our attendances are not going to fall away. The Club and these events have become a way of life for us and in keeping with the cultural traditions established for us by our predecessors, we hope that we can maintain fellowship and interest among our members. We will always try to keep costs to a minimum and provide the best value at our functions. Due to the unavailability of suitable dates, there is a fair gap between the camp and the 39th Anniversary Dance. I trust you will use the time well to plan for this event and make it a success. Please remember that due to the limited capacity of the Ithaca Bowls Club, tickets sell out fast and you will be well advised to buy your tickets early to avoid disappointment. At the last couple of events, we had to add extra tables in the bar area to accommodate the crowd and knock back some of the latecomers.

Please keep a note of the 'dates for your diary', and plan ahead for forth coming events. I hope you are all keeping well and I look forward to seeing you in good numbers at the next dance. As they say in the classics 'live long and prosper'.

Kind regards,
Sid Shedden

SENIORS OUTING - Picnic In The Park

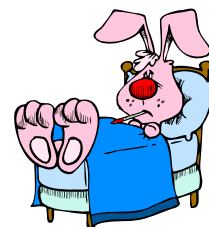

Calling all senior members for a picnic at the Roma St Parklands on Friday 28th August. If you have any suggestions regarding venue or content, please call Deanna on 3216 2980 or Elizabeth on 3263 7538, before 10th August, for consideration.

Club Chatter...

Congratulations to two of our young members, Mandela Thambidurai and Travin de Fransz, who got engaged in exotic Bangkok recently. We are glad they made it back in time to celebrate at the camp.

Several of our long-standing members have been a bit under the weather lately. Our best wishes for a speedy recovery go out to Eustace Fernando, Leslie Ephraims, Albert Shockman and Spencer Herft. We hope they can join the fun and frolic at a club event very soon. (P.S. We hope that Master Games champion, Spencer, will be back on track even if not track & field!).

Doug and Nanda Herft have decided to leave sunny Queensland and relocate to Melbourne. We will miss Doug's input towards the Carrom tournament.

Herbie & Lorraine Tucker recently moved into their new house in Redcliffe. Best wishes to the Tucker family for happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Lucky couple Karol and Deanna Misso, will be "jetting off" to Morocco in the near future. We hope they have a wonderful trip and we shall look forward to reading Deanna's travelogue.

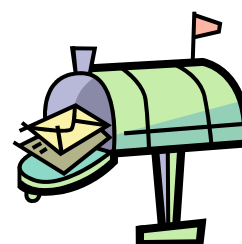

Death notice: of Noel Herft, husband of Margie Herft (deceased), father of Dion Herft, and father-in-law of Barbara Herft from the Gold Coast.

Letters to the Editor

Just a quick note to thank you and your Silver Fawn Committee so much for a wonderful weekend at Lake Perseverance. As usual we had some great fun with lots of laughs and the company of some great people. The food was plentiful and we were pleased we arrived in time for the curry lunch on Saturday. Curries are always a highlight for us. Well done and we look forward to seeing you again soon.

SILVER FAWN CLUB—ANNUAL CAMP ~ 2009

To put it very simply, Camp 2009 was an outstanding success. It was a co-ordinators dream to have everything fall into place and run efficiently and smoothly. We must have come up with the ideal formula to pick the right people for each task and give them the responsibility to run their own shows. While tasks were allocated and carried out by individuals the overall success was a team effort. My congratulations to the team, for a job well done.

The campers too were great. There were no complaints or whinges, everyone was willing to do their share and help when necessary. The decision to do the same as last year and pay a person to wash up has been very popular. Gwendoline, who took on this job, was well organized and quick, which gave her time to enjoy some of the activities of the camp. I am sure all the campers would join me in thanking her, as this is always the most unpopular chore associated with camping.

The Sports Meet and prize giving were planned and scheduled by Colin (a separate report from him is included in this newsletter) On the day, Herbie took on the running of the events and with the help of several marshals made it look like a walk in the park.

The Saturday night dance had a Country & Western theme. There were some excellent outfits and the best cowgirl was Marie Kellar, but she declined the prize because she was the organizer of the event. A Red Indian (Geronimo, I think, alias Isidore Storey), sneaked into the cowboys camp and after some boisterous clashes with the cowboys and getting shot by the sheriff, won the prize for best outfit. Fortunately it wasn't a scalp. Music for the dance that followed, was provided by Ty Fox and 'DJ' Colin.

Sunday started off with the usual yummy breakfast followed by Sunday service conducted by Rev. Karol Misso. A choir of some angelic voices complemented the service. This mass was one of the most well attended services I have seen in recent years at the camp. It did not seem to matter what faith they belonged to, participation was full and unrestrained. It was good to see that in the midst of fun and enjoyment they were not ashamed to say thanks to God. Then it was time to race off to the cricket grounds for the Trevor Croner Memorial cricket match. The prize giving and trophy presentations took place before the concert. (See Colin's report.)

The concert as usual brought out the creative talents of the campers. It was good to see that some of the new comers were in there and participating to the fullest. A DVD of the camp activities can be obtained for a small fee. (Contact Sid).

Pauline wishes to thank the leaders and their cooking teams for being an amiable mob to work with and for producing some excellent meals with the provisions provided. The cooks wish to disclaim any responsibility for weight that may have been gained during the camp!

Finally, I must thank all the campers, particularly the younger crowd, who enjoyed themselves while still observing camp regulations. The rule of no alcohol was a particular worry to the committee, but there was no evidence of any booze consumption at this camp.

OLD SCHOOLS NITE 3rd October 2009

Remember the fun at the first Old Schools Nite? Make sure you join us for another riotous nite when the young/young-at-heart go head to head in the battle for:

Best School Girl
Best School Boy
Best School Song
Best School Décor etc.

Block out the date in your diary, brush off those old school “uniforms”, brush up your vocal chords and organise your team with your old school chums.

More information in the next newsletter.

SILVER FAWN CAMP 2009—SPORTS REPORT

It was a glorious and exciting two days of sports at the Lake Perseverance camp. I would like to thank the members and non members for judging and participating. The 1st day was the sports meet, in which 4 teams of all ages took part in events such as pole balancing, lime and spoon, 50 metre relay, 200 metre race and 3 legged and sack race. The last event was the Tug-O-War. The Navy Blue team led by Jim Pearson, were the overall winners with 17 points and the Red Team led by Glen Tucker, came second with 13 points.

On the 2nd day we held the annual cricket competition for the Trevor Croner Memorial Trophy. The Captains of the Red and Mustard teams were Glen Tucker and Sam Coleman against the Light Blue and Navy Blue teams captained by Peter Kellar and Jim Pearson. Sam Coleman won the toss and elected to bat. The Red and Mustard team scored 100 runs in 20 overs. The Light Blue and Navy Blue scored 81 runs in 20 overs, and lost the Memorial Trophy to the Red and Mustard team.

Best Batsman: Sam Coleman - 15 runs in an over
Best Bowler: Glen Tucker - 3 wickets for 7 runs in an over
Best Fielder: Adrian Ferdinand - for a classic catch
Best All Rounder: Brendan Diaz - 7 year old

We also congratulate the Diaz Family for winning the Family Participation Trophy of the Silver Fawn Club.

Colin Kellar
Vice President (temporary Sports Captain).

Peace in our time and the way forward

[Author of "The Burghers" ©2006]

Extracts from the "Island" 21st May 2009

1. Unity IS strength!

As a member of the Burgher socio-cultural community I endorse the motto of the Dutch-Burgher Union which states: "Eendracht maakt Macht" [in Dutch], which means "Unity is Strength." Indeed, it is, for ALL the people of Sri Lanka, for all its diverse and heterogeneous communities, distinctive albeit related to each other through ties of blood, kinship and shared Sri Lankan values. Today, in my hearing the country's First Citizen endorsed such a concept and commended it to all its loyal citizens. If anything, this was a dramatic statement sent to the country and the world that Sri Lanka had reached a defining moment in its post-independence history. For the first time it was acknowledged in both word and deed that ALL her sons and daughters were fully co-equal citizens of ONE nation under ONE flag marching forward to ONE drum-beat!

He went further and invited all of them to come back home and help him rebuild the war-shattered regions of the Island. He also invited all other Sri Lankans in the worldwide Diaspora to come back and help him create a new and renewed nation.

2. Building Peace needs a two-pronged strategy

'Peace' isn't merely a word or the absence of conflict. It is made up of positive actions—hard and smart work—to ensure the elimination of confrontation and violence in human society. On the one hand, it means stamping out the merest manifestation of violence through a continuous series of actions calculated to ensure the maintenance of Law & Order, equity and justice in Society and the removing of those factors that hinder or act as impediments to law, order, equity and justice in the manner in which people are managed and administered with their consent and participation—not as passive spectators but as active players in day-to-day affairs that impinge on their life and well-being.

Then, the conditions and infrastructure should be systematically put in place to ensure that people could pursue their vocations and professions without threat or duress from any quarter. Civilized human beings need shelter, water, sanitation, power, roads, communications, food, and productive employment on a continuous basis. Education, medical services, transport and the entire host of services needed by modern society must be provided, filling the shattered shells of what once was and none of these things should be provided as if a favour was being done. In the provision of life-support systems, the dignity and self-respect of the beneficiaries should at all times be maintained and respected.

Overall, the citizens of the country until recently designated 'minorities' should now be brought into the mainstream of the country's politics. The largest such group are the Tamils and all their grievances should be addressed, especially education, employment opportunities, the use of the Tamil language without unfair discrimination. They and the other segments should be guaranteed equal protection of the Law in practice throughout the land. Further, the Chief Minister of every provincial council should also have an additional secretary to which these 'other' segments could make representations about their grievances—particularly discrimination and marginalization by the administrative bureaucracy, the police or the courts. This would assuage those feelings of being of no account and help these citizens genuinely feel that the Head of State and his government is sensitive to their real, felt needs in the crucial areas of civil and political rights and human rights violations.

a. Laying the foundation, winning heads, hearts and hands.

The task might be onerous and time consuming but land mines and improvised explosive devices must be cleared before people are allowed to re-occupy their former homes. If these have been damaged or destroyed, they should be repaired or rebuilt as expeditiously as possible. The aftermath of the Tsunami provides a good example of involving these people in the reconstruction process where they are assisted to rebuild their homes.

When these people are helped, step-by-step to restructure their lives and futures, the battle for their heads, their hearts, and their hands is a foregone conclusion. Words are fine but deeds count for 99 per cent of the strategy to get these people solidly behind the reconstruction and rehabilitation effort.

b. Ferreting out the remnants of terrorism

Simultaneous to the massive reconstruction effort, the surviving terrorists should be ferreted out—not for torture and imprisonment but for rehabilitation and reintegration into society. Such elements could be incorporated into the Security Forces where strict discipline prevails. Here, under controlled conditions these boys and girls could be taught useful vocational skills or encouraged to study and qualify.

3. Generating investment for infrastructure

It should be made incumbent upon the Private Sector to proactively invest in the reconstruction and rehabilitation process from now on.

4. Reviving the domestic economy—cheap credit through co-operatives.

There is enough empirical evidence to show that smallholders and peasant producers generate the greatest quantity of agricultural and other produce (i.e. fisheries) throughout the country. However, this neglected Sector could be better organized and systematized under modern management and the use of technology notably computers and telecommunications.

Poverty breeds discontent. Discontent leads to insurgency and the use of violence. Countering this at grass-roots level by systematically reorganizing the domestic economy by utilizing the widespread co-operative structure is the way to go. Sri Lanka isn't a capitalist country with an affluent Middle Class to entrepreneur in agriculture. Prosperity is an excellent foundation for sustaining a viable peace—North, East, West, and South.

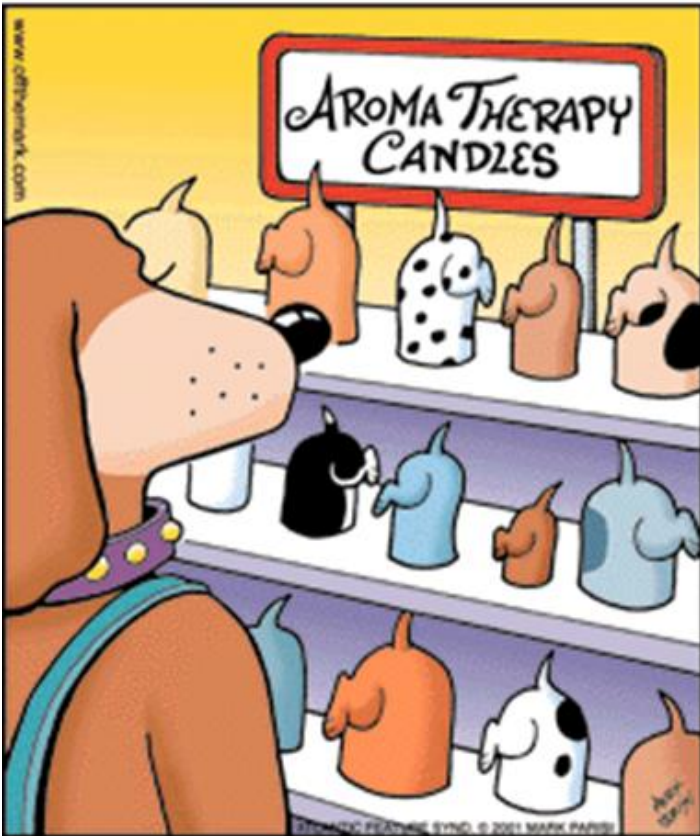

5. Consolidating the gains

President Rajapakse.....can now begin the task of winning the peace by building on his strengths, eliminating the enervating weaknesses in the system, taking advantage of the opportunities presented him, and whittling away at the threats, domestic as well as international. With the People of Sri Lanka solidly behind him he can move forwards unhindered. While he is doing all this, he needs to also pay attention to the dissemination of correct information.

6. Epilogue

Until the last Independence Day I felt like the other 7.35 million 'other' citizens of this country who have been discriminated against and marginalized since independence in 1948. It isn't a figment of my imagination as the attitudes engendered in this country by successive political leaders discriminated against one community or another, one religion or another, one language or another, and the cumulative effect of these attitudes was the bloody tearing apart of this country along the lines of race or caste, language or religion. The soil of this beautiful land has been stained with the blood and tears of thousands who perished in riots, pogroms, insurgencies, or the just concluded 33-year old war. Enough is enough as we all take hold of President Rajapakse's vision of a new Sri Lanka rising phoenix-like form the smoldering ashes of confrontation and conflict.

We, the Sinhalese, Tamils, Moors, Malays, Burghers, Veddhas, and all the others should link arms and march in lock-step with him to create a land like no other.

From the Kitchen.....

A big thank you to Barbara Wardner for turning all her recipe books upside down and inside out until she struck upon a recipe that was acceptable to the "kitchen committee". Thank you also to Neela who transcribed the recipe from Barbara's extensive archives!

JAGGERY CAKE

Ingredients:

- 250g Semolina
- 125g Butter
- 250g Sugar
- 250g Scraped Jaggery
- 250g Chopped Cashew Nuts
- 3 Eggs
- 1 tsp Spice Powder (nutmeg, cloves, cardamom & cinnamon powder)
- 1 tsp tsp Rose Essence
- 2 tsp Vanilla
- 1/4 – 1/2 cup Milk

Method:

1. Warm semolina slightly and mix with butter and leave aside.
2. Beat sugar and yolks of eggs until thick and creamy, along with the rose and vanilla essences and spice powder.
3. Add the Jaggery and cashew nuts and then the semolina & butter mixture.
4. Lastly add the stiffly beaten egg white and sufficient milk to get a "dropping" consistency.
5. Pour into a tin greased and lined with baking paper and bake at 175deg C for 15 minutes and then at 150deg C for 45 minutes.

The cake must be fairly moist when taken out because it will cook further once taken out of oven. Don't turn out the cake but cut in the tin. Enjoy!

MADHU FESTIVAL

The Man In The Mirror

If you get what you want in your struggle for self
And the world makes you King for a day
Then go to the mirror and look at yourself
And see what that Man has to say.

For it isn't a man's father, mother or wife
Whose judgement upon him must pass
The fellow whose verdict counts most in his life
Is the Man staring back from the glass.

He's the fellow to please,
Never mind all the rest
For he's with you clear up to the end
And you've passed your most dangerous test
If the Man in the glass is your friend.

You can fool the whole world
Down the pathway of years
And get pats on the back as you pass
But your final reward will be heartache and tears
If you've cheated the Man in the glass
